You MAY (but don't have to) take Kanji classes ONE level higher than the one stated on your certificate (e.g. K2, K3) under the following TWO conditions:

1. You find Kanji classes you enroll in right now to be too easy.
2. Your level of proficiency in Kanji is LOWER than the one in Grammar.

For example, if you have a certificate that says your level of proficiency is "4 (K2)", you may take K3 (but not K4) class.
